Rusk Asks Ratification To Slow Down Arms Race

Rescind Assessment On Ravena Farmer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says it has rescinded its decision... an assessment of more than $20,000 was levied against dairy farmer Jesse R. Stalker of Ravena, N.Y., for alleged violation of the New York-New Jersey milk marketing order.

Thomas Flavin, judicial officer in the department, said Saturday he had reversed his earlier decision in the matter because it was a "borderline case."

The decision promptly drew criticism from the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives, a large Upstate dairyman's organization. The federation said the new ruling was a "quick-reverse play" of which dairymen were the "victims" and predicted it would "raise a barrage of questions in the minds of milk producers."

Stalker, who operates a dairy farm, a processing plant and a retail milk business, had been classified as a producer-handler-distributor. Under that category, he was exempt from certain provisions of the milk - marketing order.

The Agriculture Department had held that Stalker had violated his exempt status over a 25-month period by buying cream in 20-quart cans and putting it in smaller containers for resale. The assessment of $20,644 levied

Hood to Quit School Because Of His Illness

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The withdrawal of Negro student James A. Hood from the University of Alabama could mean the end of his brief career as a student at the school following his stormy enrollment two months ago.

Hood's attorney announced the withdrawal and said the 20-year-old Gadsden, Ala., student was dropping out because of his physical and mental condition.

The university confirmed Hood's withdrawal Sunday and announced that a meeting of the board of trustees called to consider charges resulting from a speech Hood made in Gadsden July 16 had been canceled.

University officials had sent a letter to Hood notifying him of the charges against him and asking him to be present before the dean of men at 2 p. m. today.

The letter stipulated these charges: —That Hood accused the university of a conspiracy in setting up a news conference for him in an attempt to violate a rule against student news conferences. The rule was imposed when he was admitted to the university with another Negro student, Vivian J. Malone, 20.

—That Hood accused university officials of attempting to keep a faculty member from giving him an "A."

—That Hood accused a state official of cursing him in a dormitory.

A trustee who would not be identified said that in his opinion the charges against Hood could be grounds for refusal of the university to admit him for the fall term, which begins Sept. 20.

Subject to Hearing

The trustee said that Hood still would be subject to a hearing before any decision would be made concerning his readmittance.

Hood's attorney, Arthur Shores of Birmingham, said the Negro student has been advised to avoid routine duties and activity until his condition is improved "in or out of the country."

Four prisoners were sentenced to jail terms from six to nine months on narcotics charges. Two liquor violators were jailed and the rest asked for adjournments.

Expect Grand Jury Findings In Narcotics, Alcohol Cases

Sullivan County District Attorney Robert C. Williams said that the cases of 15 persons apprehended Thursday and Friday on narcotics and liquor law violations were presented to the current grand jury, which was expected to hand up its findings today.

The raids of last week, one of the biggest in some time, involving liquor and dope, came almost a week after synchronized raids in the Catskill Mountain resort area which resulted in seizure of nine men accused of illegally operating as bookies on a $13 million-a-year scale, and two weeks after a similar raid in Hudson in which seven persons were arrested on gambling charges.

Two Resorts Raided

The narcotics-liquor law raids included the Catskill resort hotel, Schenck's Paramount in South Fallsburg, where two adults and a youth were picked up for possession of marijuana.

The Associated Press reported that the raids, many of them at private addresses, were carried out by 20 state and local police. They were called "part of a drive" by Williams.

Ten persons were arrested on narcotics violations, involving heroin, marijuana and possession of hypodermic needles, and the rest for liquor law violations—selling after hours and without a license, and off-premises consumption.

Four Sentenced

Four prisoners were sentenced to jail terms from six to nine months on narcotics charges. Two liquor violators were jailed and the rest asked for adjournments.

Five Are Injured in Six City Mishaps: Two Get Summons

Five persons were injured in six city traffic mishaps over the weekend and drivers were booked on charges after two of them.

John B. Selleck, 22, of High Woods, was charged with driving while his ability was impaired after the car he drove, police alleged, struck the porch of a house at 441 Wilbur Avenue near the former city incinerator Saturday night.

A police report at 10:12 p. m., said Selleck was driving south on Wilbur Avenue, when the porch was struck.

Arthur Short, 42, of 141 Chambers Street, was injured police said, but the extent of his injuries was not reported. The car was towed from the scene.

Leads Off Witnesses In Senate

Aim to Outlaw Nuclear Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the Senate today to ratify the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, saying it should slow the arms race without damage to the security of the United States.

Rusk testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as lead-off witness in the Kennedy administration's drive for Senate approval of the U.S.-British-Soviet pact to outlaw all nuclear explosions except those underground.

When Rusk took the witness chair, he was put under oath on the motion of Republican committee members.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, said all witnesses on the treaty would be sworn.

Rusk sought to counter possible arguments against the pact that some senators might raise.

He emphasized that the signing of the treaty by East Germany will in no way imply United States recognition of the Communist East German regime.

He said East German authorities will subscribe to the treaty in Moscow, and added: "The Soviet Union may notify us of that act. We are under no obligation to accept that notification and we have no intention of doing so, but the East German regime would have committed itself to abide by the provisions of the treaty."

Bigger Weapons Sought

Rusk said: "The United States and the Soviet Union already have enough nuclear power to inflict enormous destruction on each other. Still, the search for bigger, more destructive weapons goes on."

"Yet greater armament has not demonstrably brought greater security. The treaty, if observed, should slow this spiral, without damage to our relative strength."

Rusk and President Kennedy conferred by telephone for about 25 minutes Sunday shortly after the secretary arrived in Washington. They will meet at the White House late today as soon as the President returns from Cape Cod.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will be on hand for the meeting.

Kennedy also called Democratic congressional leaders to the White House for a later conference.

Rusk, who met Friday with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, told newsmen that the next round of U.S.-Soviet negotiations "will not move with great speed." It was learned, however, that he came back with the impression that the Soviet leader wants to carry on talks with the United States to

Rockefeller Says Senate Should Ratify Test Ban

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says the Senate should ratify the nuclear test-ban treaty but the United States must not be lulled into a costly let-down of western military might. Rockefeller, a potential presidential candidate, endorsed the treaty Sunday and became the first high-ranking Republican to declare support for the pact with Soviet Russia.

He voiced his approval, tempered with numerous reservations, in a statement accompanied by a 3,000-word "background memorandum" on nuclear testing and other phases of foreign policy.

The treaty must be approved, Rockefeller said, because "it has become the symbol of the hopes of peace of millions" and because "the prestige of the United States already has been solemnly committed."

Other Republican leaders, including Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., his chief rival for the presidential nomination, have maintained silence on the accord negotiated by President Kennedy's Democratic administration.

No Open Hearings

The Senate arranged today to open hearings on the treaty. While declaring his support, Rockefeller called on the Kennedy administration to disclose what other negotiations it contemplated with the communist leadership.

He expressed doubt as to the worth of a proposed non-aggression pact between the western allies and the communist bloc "in the light of the Soviet record of broken treaties in general, and non-aggression pledges in particular."

At the same time, he said, the West, by agreeing to negotiate in Russia, had made Moscow "the focus of world diplomacy... giving rise to the impression that all initiatives toward peace originate in Moscow."

Rockefeller also complained that the treaty presents communist East Germany "opportunities to enhance its status" since, by signing the agreement, the puppet regime "can achieve a recognition of national sovereignty."

As for the current ideological rift between communist Russia and Red China, Rockefeller said the situation "presents dangers as well as opportunities for the West."

Rockefeller, who was briefed recently by the Kennedy administration on the Moscow meeting, said: "It is clear that the administration has at its disposal the relevant scientific and technological facts."

"Outsiders must exercise restraint in challenging judgments based on such data."

But, in ratifying the treaty, Rockefeller said, "The Senate should advise the President about its concerns regarding the treaty itself and the measures it considers necessary to maintain the defense of freedom."

John T. Groves, 72, died suddenly Sunday at his home, 156 Salem Street, Port Ewen.

Prominent in town and county Republican politics for many years, Mr. Groves was supervisor from 1944 to 1947. He served as Ulster County treasurer from 1949 to 1952.

Treasurer of the Ulster County Republican Committee for a number of years, he was a member of all county Republican Clubs.

Born in Port Ewen June 11, 1891, he was a son of the late George and Ellen Guy Groves. For over 35 years, he owned and operated the John T. Groves General Trucking concern. Since his retirement 10 years ago, he and his wife, the former Elsie Hotelling have made their home at their winter residence in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They observed their 50th wedding anniversary Aug. 18, 1962.

Was Vols President

Active in the community, Mr. Groves was a member and former officer of Port Ewen Reformed Church. He was a member of Port Ewen Fire Department and a member and past president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

A veteran of World War I, he had been a member of the American Legion for 44 consecutive years and was a charter member of Town of Esopus Post 1298. He was also a member of the Society of 40 & 8, Voiture No. 381.

Fraternally, Mr. Groves was a member of Rondout Lodge No. 343, F&AM, Royal Arch Masons, Cypress Temple of Albany, Rondout Commandery, Knights Templar, Ulster County Shrine Club and Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks. He was also a member of Kingston Kiwanis and the Grand Street Boys Club of New York City.

Surviving in addition to his wife are a daughter, Dorothea, wife of Edward L. Flick of Kingston; a grandson, Edward John Flick; a nephew, Joseph Murphy of West Hurley and several cousins.

Funeral services will be held at Port Ewen Reformed Church Wednesday 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. Ronald D. Lokhorst, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. George Berens and the Rev. Harry E. Christiansa, former pastors of the church.

Traffic, Boating Accidents Claim 11 Lives in N. Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A scuba diver who impaired himself on his spear while fishing was among the 12 persons who lost their lives in accidents over the weekend in New York State.

The toll included seven traffic deaths and one boating mishap. Four persons died as a result of other types of accidents. The count began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday.

Robert Pettit, 32, of Westbury, was swimming alone off Jones Beach Sunday, police said, when he apparently was hit by a wave that caused him to ram the spear into his abdomen.

Pettit died in a Coast Guard helicopter carrying him to Meadowbrook Hospital.

Home accidents Sunday took the lives of two children.

At Horseheads, nine-month-old Teri Ames was strangled when her head became caught between the bars of her crib. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ames.

At Poughkeepsie, Thomas Sullivan, 7, was drowned in a partially filled bathtub at his home. Police said the boy's father, Lawrence, told them he put the boy in the tub for a bath, left the

China Fights Political Pact With Dose of Atomic Fission

BY LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (NEA) — Red China is expected to explode an atomic device in October as Mao Tse-tung's answer to the treaty on a partial test ban among the United States, Britain and Russia.

Asian diplomats in touch with Peking predict that the Chinese test will take place in the province of Sinkiang on the 13th anniversary of Mao's seizure of power.

Nikita Khrushchev assured U.S. Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman that it will be a "long, long time" before the Chinese had a nuclear capability of their own.

But Ho Chi Minh, president of Communist North Viet Nam, asserts Peking will be producing nuclear weapons "in the near future."

Ho Chi Minh, who backs Mao in his conflict with Khrushchev, is a battle-scarred Red who was once the Communist International's chief of Southeast Asia.

To retain power in Viet Nam, he had to calculate shrewdly before throwing his support to Mao.

Despite Khrushchev's assurances, Asian diplomats also are convinced that the Chinese are well advanced on a nuclear weapon. They fear the psychological impact the Chinese explosion of even a "crude" bomb will have in Asia. In their view, it will be foolhardy to let enthusiasm of the test ban treaty blind the United States to the peril of relying on the Russians and freezing out the Chinese.

Could it be that American experts underrated Red China as they once underrated Khrushchev himself. It is a historic fact that the Russian atomic bomb and the first hydrogen bomb explosions came well before the dates forecast by the United States experts.

As early as 1955—shortly after Khrushchev met with Gen. Eisenhower at the first Geneva summit meeting—the Russians began to supply China with natural uranium, thorium, uranium 233 and 235, tritium, plutonium and heavy water. They also delivered to Peking TU4 bombers—Russia's equivalent to the U. S. B-29 which dropped the atomic bombs on Japan—and twin-jet IL-28 light bombers.

Premier Khrushchev may well regret today that he trusted the Chinese and did not adhere more fully to the "historic spirit of Geneva." When in 1960, the Russians discontinued all technical assistance to the Chinese nuclear development program, Mao's scientists were already well advanced on a do-it-yourself program.

In addition to the nuclear reactor in Sinkiang which the Russians helped the Chinese put into operation in June 1958, Mao is also believed to have reactors in Northern Manchuria, Chungking and a uranium plant in Urumchi to process Chinese ores from Sinkiang and Tibet.

These presumably produce enough plutonium for two test devices this year and a dozen bombs in five years. Although it will undoubtedly take some years before the Chinese develop modern delivery systems, they have enough TU4 bombers to threaten India and terrorize all Asia.

The world must therefore be prepared to see the infamous mushroom-shaped cloud over

Oscar Bakke, the agency's eastern regional director, said that in any event the proposed new airport for metropolitan New York must be west of Manhattan.

The agency has disapproved of three proposed sites and recommended that state and local officials seek a better one. The three are in Orange County, Burlington County, N.J., and Suffolk County on Long Island. The agency, however, has not ruled out any of the three.

Senate Adjourns Out of Respect For Kefauver

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate adjourns today as a mark of respect for Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee Democrat with the big handshake who died Saturday.

The quiet-spoken lawyer who battled organized crime and monopolies during his 24 years in Congress will be buried Tuesday in the family cemetery near the Kefauver farm home at Madisonville, Tenn.

A military plane will carry Kefauver's body to Tennessee Tuesday morning. Mrs. Kefauver, their children and a congressional delegation will be aboard another plane.

The senator's body will lie in state at the First Baptist Church in Madisonville, for four hours before the simple mid-afternoon services at the farm. The services will be conducted on the porch of the family home.

Space Science Director Defends Present U.S. Plan

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—A government scientist today challenged critics who want more emphasis on space weapons development, saying the present U.S. space program is laying a broad base for both scientific and military operations.

Homar E. Newell, director of space science for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said:

"Those who argue that we should dispense with the frills of science and space exploration and concentrate on the necessities of military development, forget that we can't really say what the military necessities in space will be and it would be foolhardy to pretend that we can."

In a speech prepared for an artificial satellite conference at Virginia Polytechnic Institute here, Newell said:

"We do not wish to develop a Maginot Line in space, only to have it flanked by forces of greater flexibility. We need to develop in a broad way our space capability so that we will have the ability to move in any direction required by future events to meet any threats along whatever lines might develop."

Newell's defense of the space program came at a time when many defense officials and some congressmen are taking a closer look at military needs in space.

Major military space efforts are aimed at development of reconnaissance satellites by the Air Force, communications satellites by the Army, and navigation satellites by the Navy.

The Air Force is training astronauts for NASA's two-man Project Gemini orbital and rendezvous flights. Later, Air Force astronauts will fly Gemini capsules modified for military missions and the Dyna-Soar manned space glider.

Advocates of a strong military program think the United States should be working on spacecraft to spy on enemy satellites and destroy them if they are carrying nuclear bombs. Some say this nation should develop orbiting nuclear bombs of its own.

Migrant Injured By Shotgun Blast Near Clintondale

A 41-year-old Clintondale migrant worker was wounded Sunday at about 11 a. m. when allegedly shot by another laborer during an argument on the Chason Farm where they were employed.

Kingston State Police reported Wellington Johnson, was among a group of farm workers apparently at a party in a migrant labor camp, when one of the group went to his room and returned with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Troopers said the man fired the gun across the room and pellets hit Johnson's chin and temple. He was taken to Vassar Hospital where the pellets were removed. After treatment he was released.

BCI Senior Investigator Frank Stainkamp and Investigator Richard Ryan, Kingston, checked the shooting with Trooper Harry Foster, Highland. They said Cleveland Martin, about 40-45, another farm laborer, was sought for questioning in connection with the shooting.

Parents of three million children were either separated or divorced in 1960, Population Reference Bureau figures show.

3 Propositions Before Highland School District

Residents of the Highland Central School District have been urged by district officials to attend a public hearing at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the junior-senior high school on Pancake Hollow Road, to discuss three propositions to be voted on Tuesday, Aug. 20.

Polls for voting will be open from 2 to 9 p. m., an official said. The hearing tomorrow night was scheduled to give residents an opportunity to discuss with school district officials the three upcoming propositions.

One proposition calls for the purchase of seven school buses at a total cost of $45,000. A second proposition is for $93,000 to construct baseball and football fields and a track at the new high school site, plus $67,000 for drainage and a macadam parking area. The third proposition is for acquisition of about five acres of land near the elementary school on Main Street at a cost not exceeding $5,500.

Probe Explosion At Camp Drum's Munition Dump

CAMP DRUM, N.Y. (AP)—The Army sought today to determine the cause of an explosion in an ammunition dump in a remote section of this northern New York training camp.

No one was injured, an Army spokesman said. The blast Sunday wrecked four trucks believed to have been assigned to the 50th Armored Division, New Jersey National Guard, which is here for its annual two-week encampment.

A Guard spokesman said the trucks loaded with infantry ammunition, were in a special bunker area surrounded by earthen banks. They had been parked there early Saturday afternoon, about 12 hours before the blast.

Dillon Proposes $11 Billion Tax Cut in Two Steps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon put before the House Ways and Means Committee today a proposal for an $11-billion tax cut in two steps beginning Jan. 1.

Individual tax rates would range from 14 per cent on the first $500 of income to a 70 per cent top. The present range is 20 on the first $2,000 to a top of 91.

Corporate income taxes would be reduced from the present 52 per cent to 48 per cent.

Dillon's proposals were presented at a closed meeting of the committee. Dillon declined to tell newsmen about them, but other sources filled in some details. Since tax revisions already approved by the committee and expected to be approved would result in an increase of something over $1 billion a year in revenue, the net effect if the Treasury-prepared rate schedules were accepted would be a reduction of something between $9 billion and $10 billion when the new provisions are fully effective.

It was understood the proposal is to put two-thirds of the individual cut into effect Jan. 1, the remainder a year later.

This would mean a slightly smaller tax cut eventually than proposed, but probably a greater immediate reduction.

The committee is nearing the end of its work on a tax bill that is expected to go to the House for consideration early in September. One member said the Treasury proposals appeared to be well received and were likely to represent fairly closely the ultimate committee action.

Paone Is Charged With Theft of Car

Charged with theft of a car from Pine Street early Saturday, Kenneth Anthony Paone, 19, of 69½ Pine Street, was picked up by state police at Deposit Saturday afternoon and turned over to local police.

David Duncan, of the same Pine Street address, notified police headquarters at 4:30 a. m. Saturday that his 1961 Pontiac convertible had been taken from the yard of his home. Paone was reported stopped at Deposit at 3:30 p. m. He was arrested by Detective Harold DeGraff.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today adjourned hearing to Tuesday. Bail, fixed at $2,000, was not posted.

Reports to the police indicated that the car had been taken after an argument between Paone and Duncan. Paone was booted on a charge of first degree grand larceny.

Skindiver Inpaled On Spear and Killed

JONES BEACH, N.Y. (AP)—A skindiver, knocked from his feet by a big wave, was impaled on his spear and killed Sunday.

The victim, Robert Pett, 32, of Westbury, N.Y., yanked the spear from his abdomen. Other fishermen at Jones Beach State Park on the Atlantic Ocean summoned help.

A Coast Guard helicopter took Pett to a hospital, but he died as he was carried into an operating room.

Police said he apparently had dozed off and dropped his cigarette.

President of ABA Calls for Power Curb on Agencies

CHICAGO (AP)—The president of the American Bar Association urged today that Congress be asked to curb what he called a grab for power by federal administrative agencies that is slowing down the nation's economy.

Sylvester C. Smith Jr., of Newark, N.J., also urged America's lawyers to work for tighter enforcement of the criminal laws and to act more swiftly in matters involving civil rights.

"There is every indication that the federal administrative agencies are again reaching out for power, extending their jurisdiction beyond the intended delegation granted by Congress," he said in the president's address opening the ABA's 86th annual meeting.

Citizens "Alarmed" "I have grave doubt that the top executive leaders or leaders in the Congress are fully aware of these grasps for power. But the citizens affected are aware and alarmed."

The association president said the public's concept of the organized bar will be lowered if the ABA does not take action on civil rights issues.

He added: "If the bar is to go forward there must be a uniform concept of the rule of law. The rule of law cannot mean one thing to one group and something else to another group."

"It cannot mean one thing to a governor of a state who has taken a solemn oath of office to uphold the Constitution and enforce the law and another thing to a group of citizens. It should mean compliance with the final decisions of the courts of the land in any particular case."

Crop Spray Kills Cows, Overcomes 38 People in West

TOPPENISH, Wash. (AP) — A crop dusting mishap killed two cows and sent 38 persons to the hospital Saturday night.

Two planes were spraying a field of hops in the lower Yakima Valley about seven miles west of here with an insecticide that contained tetraethyl pyrophosphate, a poison that affects the nervous and respiratory systems.

Ordinarily, the spray settles to the ground, but a weather condition known as thermal inversion held it in the air, where it hovered in a white cloud.

Rancher Ray Cerna, 51, said he saw the cloud, hanging near the ground, and went out to a shed where he found two dead heifers.

Authorities evacuated 38 men, women and children in the area to a hospital, but only four were kept overnight.

Prisoners Stage Riot Over Death Of Fellow Inmate

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Buckshot from police riot guns and flying bricks injured seven inmates at the Indiana state penal farm at Putnamville late Sunday night, as a brief protest riot touched off by the death of a prisoner was put down.

A blaze set by inmates nearly destroyed the farm's laundry. Six dormitories were badly damaged by the rioting prisoners. About 500 of the farm's 1,400 prisoners were involved.

State Corrections Commissioner Arthur Campbell said the brick-battering prisoners apparently felt that inmate Merrill Hobbs of Indianapolis, who died Sunday night of pneumonia, had not received proper medical care.

One Dead, 15 Hurt In Flint Hotel Fire

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Authorities today tried to determine the cause of a hotel fire which claimed one life and injured 15 persons Sunday but spared a blind man who sat and prayed as the flames raged around him.

Three of the 109 guests registered at the six-story Adams Hotel in downtown Flint were unaccounted for early today.

Firemen expressed hope that they, like 34 others previously reported missing, would turn up safe in other cities.

Fred Whitby, 84, one of the many pensioners who stayed at the 60-year-old hotel, died in Flint's Hurley Hospital less than 12 hours after being carried down a ladder from his third floor room.

Separate Twins After Three Days

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Bartley boys, David Eugene and Daniel Clifford, born Siamese twins, entered their third day of life today — separately.

The twins, joined from mid-breast to midabdomen, were separated in a three-hour operation Sunday.

William Bartley 19, the father, and the twins' paternal grandmother, Mrs. Violet Mitchell, waited in the hall throughout surgery.

"Now it's up to the little guys," Mrs. Mitchell said after the operation. "They've got good names, David and Daniel."

The boys were born at 11:45 a. m. Saturday to Mrs. Rebecca Bartley, 16, who is improving nicely in Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Delivered by Caesarean section, they weighed a combined 14 pounds, 4 ounces.

The normal protective membranes for their intestinal tracts were missing, and corrective surgery was performed shortly after birth.

Fined for Firing At Light Fixtures

Accused of shooting out lights and damaging fixtures at the main entrance to Camp Tav-Tov, Napanoch, at 4:30 a. m. Sunday, Ronald Kurz, 21, of Yeagerville Road, Napanoch, was taken into custody later by Ellenville State Police.

Kurz was picked up by Troopers Francis Steiner and Edward Ford at about 9:30 a. m. and charged with malicious mischief and carrying a loaded shotgun in his car.

The youth was arraigned later before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing, and pleaded guilty to both charges. He was fined a total of $102.50, which he paid.

Trooper Steiner said Kurz was accused of firing five shots at the light fixtures at the entrance to the camp.

Escapes Injury

Frank T. Dineen, 18, of 68-14 Caldwell Avenue, Maspeth, apparently escaped injury at 7:10 p. m. Saturday when an unidentified vehicle forced his car off Mohonk Road, High Falls. Deputy Sheriff Silas Countryman reported the car was traveling north on the road and negotiating a curve when the mishap occurred. Dineen's car went into a ditch, spun around and crossed the highway, hitting two cedar trees, and knocking down a fence before coming to a stop in a pasture.

Car Damaged by Fire

A car owned by Fred Ashley, of Allaben, parked in the lot at the rear of the Montgomery Ward store, Fair and North Front Streets, was damaged by a fire of unknown origin Saturday afternoon. A unit from Wiltwyck Station answered a call at 1:30 p. m. The blaze damaged the hood, fenders and wiring.

Report Theft of Rifles

Local police were notified at 1:40 a. m. Sunday by Clarence Jackson, of Mill Street, that six rifles had been stolen from a trailer at the rear of the Soper Cabinet Co., 52 Broadway. Entrance was gained through the breaking of a window, police said. Detectives are following through after a preliminary investigation by officers Richard Scherer and Curtis VanDemark.

Recreation Department Movie Listed Tonight

The final movie of the 1963 park season will be shown at dusk tonight at No. 2 School.

The feature this week is "The Mountain" starring Spencer Tracy, Robert Wagner and Claire Trevor. The plot concerns two brothers of widely contrasting natures who climb a towering Alpine peak to reach the wreckage of a crashed airliner—one for purely humane reasons, the other with the specific purpose of plundering the dead.

Filming of this powerfully suspenseful and deeply human prize-winning French novel was done at great hazard on the treacherous heights of Mont Blanc.

The film will be shown at dusk on Tuesday at Forsyth Park and on Wednesday at Hutton Park.

Blasphemous Trend

In your Wednesday edition you front-paged a story with the question, "Are gospel songs blasphemous in night club jazz?" There is but one answer, of course, and that is a hearty "Yes!"

I do not believe that the true gospel hymns were written by "Tin Pan Alley composers" but rather, that they were written by godly men and women, stirred by the Spirit of God as they contemplated spiritual truths. Hymns were written out of deep spiritual experiences, and are out of keeping with any night club atmosphere.

Such hymns were written to glorify God and should be so used. How utterly discordant it is to introduce a "spiritual" theme into the godless atmosphere of such places as a supper club in the Times Square area.

Undue familiarity with the divine is a trend of our day, a dismal and blasphemous trend. Some have not hesitated to refer to the God of Heaven as "the man upstairs" and we have heard the song, "Somebody Up There Loves Me." How rebellious can unregenerate man become?

How do such things happen?

I personally believe that when men in the American pulpit quit preaching the pure gospel, and began preaching anything else, the trouble developed. The greatest theologian of them all, Paul the apostle, declared "I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified" and when men cling to this God-ordained message, it will show up in the lives of the church people, and will affect the world about them.

A clear case in point is the situation between white and colored. We are being treated to men who call themselves "clergymen" leading revolts against their neighbors, putting children into the front line where police wait to arrest the disorderly, and all that goes with it.

Pastors who ought to be home preparing messages from the Word of God, are instead leading their parishioners to oppose law and order.

It is evident that the colored population is no more ready for the position they are asking for, than were their cousins in the Congo when they took over the country. In New York City the plumbing union asked for 30 colored men to become plumbers' apprentices, and after screening 70 people, they found only five that were interested.

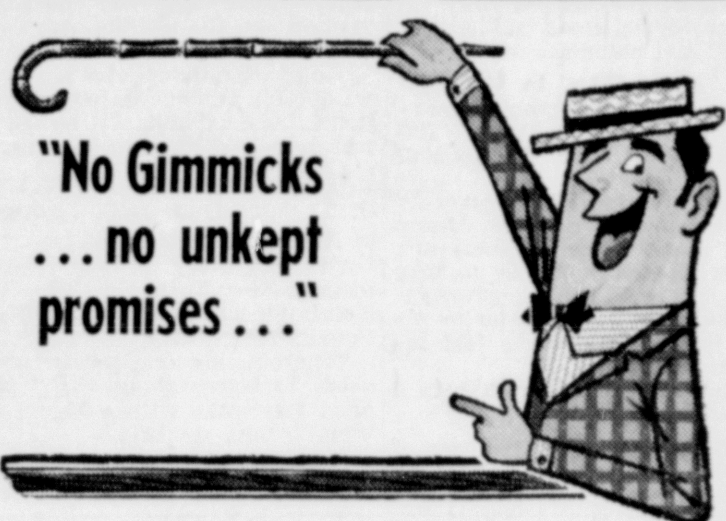

I believe with all my heart that our country is in real trouble, because of a failure in the pulpits of America. Even David Lawrence found it necessary to complain bitterly in a recent column in The Freeman, that the pastors were failing their people in this very thing. He was right!

Let pastors declare "(God) hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation." (Acts 17:26).

Let the colored man read his Bible, listen to a gospel message from the pulpit and learn to love his white neighbor. Let the white man hear a clear gospel message from the pulpit of his church, and go out to love his colored neighbor. The white and the colored are not right with each other, because they are not right with God. When one becomes truly converted to Christ, he has no more trouble with his neighbors. Then, "the love of God is shed abroad in his heart by the Holy Spirit" and that is the end of bickering.

I call for a return to solid Bible preaching in our pulpits and much of the distress and discord will be ended.

Sincerely
The Rev. Willard D. Crunkilton

Prepare Exhibits For County Fair Slated Next Week

The Annual Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park Wednesday and Thursday, August 21-22 is a busy time for most of the county's active 4-H Club members.

Demonstrations galore will be given in the area of foods this year, with some fifty 4-H Club girls ranging in age from 9-16 participating in the booth. The foods demonstration kitchen will be located in the 4-H Club foods tent area and features the live demonstrations, where products will be baked on the premises. Next to the demonstration area will be the food sale booth, where these delicious baked goods along with other home-made goodies will be on sale. Baked articles will include all kinds of cakes, cookies, pies, breads, rolls, and muffins.

The 4-H Foods Demonstration program in Ulster County has been active this year and as a result three local girls will travel to the State Exposition in Syracuse at the end of the month to participate in the foods demonstration activity and receive a state rating. They are Miss Lynne Charlton, Hurley, with a dairy foods presentation, "Lenten Surprise," Miss Linda McCord, Walkill, with a poultry presentation, "Angel Food Cake" and Miss Martha Nickerson, Sawkill, with a bread presentation, "Cheese Breads Specialty." Each of these girls received excellent ratings on a county and district level and were specially selected for the state.

Two other demonstrators from Ulster County will also participate at state. They are Genevieve Switz, Lomontville selected to represent the three-county district with a clothing demonstration, "Bound Buttonholes," and Patricia Schoonmaker, High Falls, selected in home improvement to act as the district representative in a working booth. Ulster County 4-H Clubs are proud of the fine achievements made by each of these girls this year.

In Arabia, coffee is flavored with cardamom, clove, cinnamon or anise.

Today in History

Today is Monday, Aug. 12, the 224th day of 1963. There are 141 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1676 Indian King Phillip—chief of the Wampanoags—was shot to death at Mount Hope, R.I., by a renegade of his own tribe. His death ended the first great war of a confederacy of Indians against white settlers of that sector.

On this date: In 1806, enraged citizens of Buenos Aires, Argentina, drove out a landing force of 1,200 British troops.

In 1916, the War Department ordered the National Guard to the Mexican border.

In 1933, Gen. Italo Balbo's aerial squadron returned to Italy after a flight to the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago.

In 1948, a Russian teacher, Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, leaped from the Soviet consulate in New York City to avoid deportation to her homeland.

Ten years ago... Strikes in France spread to private industry when Premier Joseph Laniel refused to modify economic reforms ordered by his cabinet.

Five years ago... The submarine Skate became the second U.S. nuclear-powered submarine to sail under the North Pole.

One year ago... Russia's fourth astronaut, Lt. Col. Paoel Popovich, was sent into a nearly identical orbit with that of Maj. Andrian Niklayev, whose launching occurred a day earlier.

Test Agreement Is Imperialist Fraud Says China Paper

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's official newspaper, the People's Daily, today called the limited nuclear test ban treaty a fraud and declared it is "beneficial to the U.S. imperialists and manacles the socialist countries."

"Obviously, the tripartite treaty, viewed from any angle, is a serious step on the part of the Soviet imperialism," it reiterated in a long article broadcast by the Red China news agency Saturday night.

The article said the United States needs continued underground nuclear tests to develop its weaponry and the Moscow treaty gives the United States a "free hand in conducting nuclear armament expansion under the cover of this treaty without being condemned by world public opinion."

No Check on U.S.

"This treaty can neither hamper the United States from spreading its nuclear bases, nuclear equipment, nuclear submarines and nuclear aircraft to many parts of the world, nor can it prevent her from supplying nuclear weapons and technical data connected with the manufacture of such weapons to the countries under U.S. control."

"What deserves attention is that the Kennedy administration is stepping up its plan of 'multilateral nuclear force.' This is in essence a plan to carry out nuclear proliferation within the Western camp. It will enable more Western countries to acquire nuclear weapons and strengthen the nuclear force of the entire imperialist camp."

Socialists Chained

"On the other hand, the treaty is aimed at binding the hands of all socialist countries except the Soviet Union and all countries under the oppression of the United States, rendering it impossible for them to strengthen their defense capability against the nuclear threat of U.S. imperialism. It does its utmost to prevent the other socialist countries and all oppressed countries from acquiring nuclear weapons."

Deprived Nation Of Distinguished Leader: Kennedy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy said today the death of Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., has deprived the nation of one of its most distinguished leaders.

The President issued the following statement through press secretary Pierre Salinger: "The death of Senator Estes Kefauver has deprived the nation of one of its most distinguished leaders."

"Senator Kefauver was a public servant of energy, integrity and talent. His devotion to the public interest and the welfare of the people of his state and country made him a powerful influence for good in our nation's affairs. As a friend and former Senate colleague, I will miss him."

"Mrs. Kennedy joins in sending our condolences to Mrs. Kefauver and his family."

Exile Newspaper Sees Struggle For Power in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The exile newspaper Patria said today a struggle for power is under way in Cuba among Fidel Castro, Blas Roca and Che Guevara.

Patria said Castro is pro-Chinese, Communist party head Roca favors an independent line, and economic czar Guevara likes the Russians.

The newspaper said Castro recently went through with a reception honoring visiting Chinese Communists over opposition from Roca and Guevara.

It said the prime minister called a big celebration for July 26, anniversary of the Castro revolutionary movement, over opposition by the other two leaders.

Chinese Reds Accuse Khrush of Betrayal

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists accused Premier Khrushchev today of betraying world communism and joining the West in hurling "baseless slanders and abuses" at Peking.

The Chinese Communist newspaper Wen Wei Po, keeping up a barrage the Chinese have been firing at Khrushchev with increasing intensity, said:

"If the self-styled successor of Lenin has any courage at all it lies in his betrayal of the peoples of the socialist camp and in his abject capitulation to the imperialists."

Fished in 49 Bills

In Counterfeit Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Michael Rampino, 28, his son Frank, 4, and brother-in-law, Richard Malafian, 12, went fishing off Brooklyn Saturday. Their luck was lousy, no matter how you look at it.

Rampino, who hadn't caught a fish all day, hooked a wad of paper. Excitedly, he reeled it in—and pulled 49 $100 bills.

After a quick trip home to talk it over with his wife, Rampino took the bills to a police station. Detectives examined them briefly and gave him the word: "Counterfeit."

Reveal Exchange Of Letters in Park Situation

The Committee for the Preservation of the Wittenberg Valley has released the contents of letters exchanged by Donald Hainer, a member of the committee and J. V. Skiff, Deputy Conservation Commissioner in behalf of Conservation Commissioner Harold G. Wilm.

Hainer's letter, dated July 15, was based on an editorial appearing in the July 11 issue of the Woodstock Record-Press and was as follows:

"The enclosed editorial decidedly gives the impression that Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson is speaking for the Conservation Department. You can understand that this gives his proposal for a Wittenberg Valley play site a certain authenticity and a great deal of prestige strongly influencing the people. This strikes us as being an impropriety unless Mr. Wilson has been authorized to speak for your department. Would you please let me know if he has been, so that I can transmit this information to the Committee for the Preservation of the Wittenberg Valley. . . . DONALD HAINER."

Department Reply

In his reply to the Hainer inquiry, Deputy Commissioner Skiff wrote:

"Your recent letter asking whether Assemblyman Wilson has been authorized to speak for our department is a little hard for me to understand but I shall try to answer your question as best I can.

"The acquisition of the park and recreation lands under the special bond act has resulted in our having many contacts and conferences with local legislators, supervisors and other state and local officials. They have been most helpful in offering possible sites for acquisition and they are, of course, always at liberty to say whatever they wish about the suggestions which have been made and the contacts we have had with them. It would be most improper for me to attempt to try to impose some sort of a gag rule on them because we recognize that the legislative branch of government is just as important to the government, and in many cases more important than the executive branch of which we here in the Conservation Department are a part.

"As an example of the foregoing, we and our field men have discussed various projects with Mr. Wilson's Assembly district with him and one of these was the so-called Wittenberg Valley proposal in which I assume you a special interest. We definitely have this project under consideration but I am sure that Mr. Wilson has never said that its acquisition was a certainty because he is well aware that there are many steps to be taken in connection with our own field investigation, appraisals, title searches, negotiations with owners, etc.

"The final responsibility in connection with each proposal is, of course, mine under the law. But to come back to your question, Mr. Wilson, is obviously at liberty to comment on any of our proposals, publicly or privately, in which he has an interest as an elected representative for this district. . . . M. J. V. SKIFF."

Liebau Exhibit Is Highlight at Mari Galleries

A exhibition of rich, calligraphic paintings by Ariadna Liebau opened at the Mari Galleries, Aug. 9, and accurately reflects the cosmopolitan background of the artist. Born in Russia, Miss Liebau moved to Berlin as a child and trained there at the Arts and Crafts School and the State Academy.

This was in the 1930's, when Germany was in a ferment, and in 1934, Miss Liebau left for the island of Madeira where she stayed for three years. After another year on St. Miguel, one of the Azores, she returned to Germany where the atmosphere made it difficult to paint. During the next two years, she traveled in Danzig, Argentina, Buenos Aires, Chile and Peru, Columbia, Panama and Cuba and arrived in New York in time for the World's Fair, where she exhibited a tempera painting at the pavilion for European painters.

In Many Shows Since then she has exhibited in one-man and group shows in several New York galleries and has expanded her range of media to include watercolor and tempera, ceramics, oils and experimental mixed media. The show at the Mari Galleries is largely in this latter group, for on display are works combining casein and layers of gold and silver leaf, overlaid with patterns of calligraphy. Miss Liebau's work is cosmopolitan. In some cases she makes use of actual Russian characters. Some of her work suggests the Orient and a few of her simpler, bolder pieces are as American as Klein. However, her paintings are consistently controlled and carefully organized.

Turnau Singer Has Excellent Career Credits

William Stenson, a bass-baritone in the Turnau Opera's version of the Barber of Seville, is a Canadian-born (Saskatchewan) singer with wide experience in stock, road shows, radio and TV, night club and operatic fields.

For the last two years, he has been a member of the Manhattan School of Music Opera Workshop under the direction of John Brownlee and Emerson Buckley. He has performed in Rigoletto, Werther, Barber of Seville, Il Travatore, La Boheme, Pearl Fishers, Lakme and Mirella.

In stock at Vancouver, Canada, he appeared in Oklahoma, Damn Yankees, Showboat and Die Fledermaus. He was in the Cockney Quartet of My Fair Lady's National Company for a year and a half. He joined the show as it traveled through Canada.

He appeared for a year on the Canadian Broadcasting Company radio and TV network on such programs as Singing Stars of Tomorrow and Pick The Stars. He has been a solo performer in many night club and supper club shows.

Find Body of Boys In Clothes Dryer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An all-night search for two young playmates ended tragically as the grandfather of one of the youngsters found their bodies locked inside a clothes dryer.

A. D. Cummings found his grandson, David Wayne McClain, 6, and a playmate, Rickey Lee Spann, 3, inside the death trap early Sunday.

Coroner J. O. Butler said the boys had suffocated, probably dying within three minutes after the door of the dryer had closed behind them. The deaths were ruled accidental.

Figaro Pleases Critic Sturgeon

Under the watchful eye of my son Timothy, who is three, I dressed for my weekly visit to the Byrdcliffe Theater and another blow against my status as one of the countless millions who know nothing about opera.

Timothy was interested in my cuff links. "The design," I informed him, "is an old, old Chinese symbol called Ying and Yang, or sometimes 'Yin and Yen'." This pleased him, for he tried out the names a number of times. "It means," I told him, "all things opposite and equal: light and dark, up and down, good and evil, yesterday and tomorrow." Timothy studied a cufflink for a moment, then: "Does it mean opera?" he demanded.

By now my innocence of opera has been barely sullied; but I can see already that I have only scratched the surface, and through the scratch I can see some evidence that Yes is the answer to Timothy's question. I went to see The Marriage of Figaro, a work which, like Rigoletto, was banned as a play for its cutting commentary on high junks in high places, but got through as an opera. Otherwise it is as unlike the heavily tragic Verdi piece as it is possible for an opera to be.

Words Reach Out

Brilliant colored throughout with Mr. Mozart's enameled music, directed with the feathered crispness of Turnau's Barbara Owens, acted by a perfectly cast, apparently inspired company, the show was a delight to behold from beginning to end—most especially because it was sung in English (in Ruth and Thomas Martin's fine version) in the Byrdcliffe's intimate and excellent acoustic surroundings, by people who care to have their words reach you and are trained to do it.

All of which is the dish upon which I wish to serve you the main course of what I want to say: namely, that this opera is one of the funniest things I have ever seen, and the audience, which applauded, shouted, and finally stamped its feet, was in emphatic agreement.

In this courtly paper we have the phillandering nobleman and his loving (but scheming) wife, her maid, the pockishly Michiavellian Figaro, and a wonderfully drawn clutch of characters—and I mean characters, man. And while this seems to do some pretty cutting kidding of foppish foibles, I had more than once the distinct impression that the while uproarious ferrage was not above kidding operas about phillandering dukes with devoted wives, machinating underlings, and the expected staff of broad-cast yes-men.

Lovely Heroine

There need never be a lovelier heroine than the arch, delicate, bright-eyed and full-throated Carolyn Chrisman, nor a heartier nor more joyful Figaro than Spiro Malas. Twice in the opera, the gifted Lucille Sullam (with Mozart's assistance) brought the bright buffoonery into aching focus with expressions of the despair of a genuinely loving wife for her errant husband. Don Yule wagged wattles, stumped about, and generally rocked the place with two vividly different character parts. A lapidary lives in Alan Baker's Adam's apple, and scrupulously polishes every syllable he delivers. Something of the sort could be said about everyone aboard—until we come to Nancy Wyner, who uncorks a comic talent that deserves special treatment. As the light-heartedly libidinous youth Cherubino, she exhibited a man-nash swagger, a bantam strut, and a gift for mugging that were absolutely outrageous. We've known for some time that Mrs. Wyner has a splendid voice and a good presence; but her Cherubino left me limp with laughter and delight.

Rumor has it that The Marriage of Figaro is a sequel to The Barber of Seville, which, by a happy coincidence, is Turnau's next Byrdcliffe Theater production. I'll react to it in my next.

Health for All

Pronounce It 'Em Fuh See-Ma'

Does the Age of Science, whizzing by at 18,000 miles an hour, leave you feeling sort of ignorant? Forget it, Nobody can be 100 per cent "hep", even if that were desirable.

Even the medical profession, which increases its knowledge at a geometric rate, readily admits that there are things it doesn't know.

Look at the "new" (that is, newly prominent) disease called emphysema, which attacks the lungs and robs them of some of their functioning power. Because it has some symptoms in common with other diseases of breathing (chronic bronchitis, for instance), different methods of identifying emphysema exist in different places. As a result, the medical profession doesn't know the extent of the disease. It knows emphysema is increasing, but doesn't know how much.

Another thing doctors don't know is exactly what role, if any, is played by smoking in causing emphysema. Nor do they know—so far—just what can be done about preventing this serious condition.

It should be added, however, (now that we're all feeling better about the gaps in our own knowledge), that doctors do know a lot about emphysema. They know it doesn't attack all of a sudden but develops gradually. They know it usually starts with a chronic infection of the bronchial tubes. They know it can result in heart damage due to vastly increased labor in breathing. And they know that most of its victims are over 50, with many a 10-to-1 majority.

They know something else: That emphysema often announces itself first by a chronic cough or shortness of breath. Which means that the prudent citizen, if beset by either of these symptoms, will go buzzing right off to his doctor to see what's what!

Technically, city, state and federal police are forbidden by law to enter the UN grounds in New York. Although they have the right of "hot pursuit" of a criminal. Police usually check their guns when they accompany a celebrity to the world headquarters.

Back Halleck For Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana have quietly and informally launched an effort to win the 1964 Republican presidential nomination for the House minority leader.

They are sounding out some top Republican leaders and report a favorable reaction.

Halleck himself would not comment, but persons close to him said he is doing nothing to nip the move. They represent him as being "available" for the nomination and ready to make a fight for it if victory should appear within reach.

The Halleck backers claim that of all the Republicans who have been mentioned as presidential possibilities, the tough-talking, hard-hitting 63-year-old Hoosier is among the most widely known nationally. His position as House GOP leader and as one of the stars of the weekly "Ev and known in Georgia."

Charlie Show" sponsored for broadcast by congressional Republicans have kept him in the public eye.

His supporters rule out of the picture such nationally known figures as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Halleck has harbored high political ambitions for some time. In 1948 he came within an inch of winning second place on the GOP presidential ticket headed by Thomas Dewey of New York.

While Halleck's backers were playing down Goldwater's chances for the nomination, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said the Arizona would probably carry Georgia if Goldwater were opposing President Kennedy in a presidential election today.

Russell said Goldwater's political stock is "selling far above any Republican par that's ever been known in Georgia."

RISK UNLIMITED

Risk circumscribes the economic lives of thousands of Americans. Any untoward vocational or financial event would create a crisis in a very short time.

In my work from day to day I witness evidences of this truth. Debts are too big in millions of households and savings too meager. Statistics bear this out.

Right now, total consumer credit stands at more than $63,000,000,000. Assuming that families involved in this future debt average $3,000 for each household, one can see that about 21 million families are in hock—many of them over their heads.

On the other hand, total mutual savings bank deposits are $42,000,000,000. All of these deposits would not pay off consumer debts.

Now, of course, in many consumer credit circles the debt is not excessive. Stable employment at good wages and family health combine to give consumer debt a solid base. But in millions of other homes, where employment is somewhat cyclical and the spirit of thrift and saving practically unknown, this picture presents a dangerous situation.

Here, for example, is a skilled cabinetmaker. He gets $8 an hour, and for overtime on weekends he receives $16 an hour.

He has no savings account, only $5,000 of insurance, and his consumer debts are always big. At age 45 he is in the prime of life and he ought to be saving at least $50 a week. He will pay dearly for his negligence of thrift and saving in the years ahead.

On the higher level there are thousands of improvident business and professional people.

Here is a man age 52 whose net worth is $250,000. Yet every asset of any value is pledged for loans totaling more than $1,000,000.

He is operating on a shoe-string. Why, his $50,000 life-insurance policy is in hock. He ought to be carrying at least $100,000 worth of unpledged endowment and life insurance.

And while he can, he should liquidate some of his property, reduce the mortgages against it and start building up a hard core of high-grade, easily marketable investments paying dependable income that have instant marketability and hence good collateral value at commercial banks.

The more circumscribed with risk that individuals and business enterprises are, the more necessary it is that they own unpledged assets of high quality that are instantly marketable.

A real-estate owner worth $1,000,000 that is heavily encumbered by mortgages has recently bought $100,000 worth of U. S. Government long-term 3½ per cent bonds for $89,000.

These bonds will be his ace-in-the-hole if and when he experiences financial difficulties with any of his real estate in deteriorating communities.

The cabinetmaker who often makes $400 a week should put $2,000 in a savings bank and buy himself a $50,000 25-year endowment policy. The time for anyone to get his financial house in order is when he is able to do so.

BY OSWALD JACOBY

South won the opening diamond lead with the ace and started about the business of drawing trumps. His plan was to let West hold a diamond after trumps were drawn and eventually discard one or two clubs on dummy's long diamonds.

South would have succeeded in his plans if East hadn't been thinking also.

East let South hold the first trump. He wanted to see if South had been dealt five or six trumps. When West followed to the second trump East knew that South had a five-card suit.

East also knew that South had jumped right to four spades after his partner's raise to two. What could South have for that bid?

He only held a five-card trump suit, nothing in clubs and just the ace of diamonds. South was marked with the ace and king of hearts.

How many hearts did South hold? Only those two! With three hearts he would surely have ruffed one in dummy before playing two rounds of trumps.

Now East was ready for operation "Beat the declarer." He led the four of clubs. West produced the ten spot and forced one of dummy's honors. Later on West got the lead with a diamond and played a club to give East two club tricks.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I was just looking through Captain Andrew S. Hickey U. S. Navy, (ret.) book called "The Story of Kingston." On page 202 he mentions the "Soldiers and Sailors Monument" in front of the City Hall honoring those who were in the Civil War. Capt. Hickey told me there were many men who served in the U. S. Navy during the Civil War, and his book lists such naval vessels as: "Scotio, Poer Royal, Wabash, Nantucket, Lancer, Savannah, North Carolina, Commodore, Circe, Cassia, Comenpough, Pontosick." He also adds that possibly local men were stationed on other naval ships not mentioned in the county record as some men enlisted in the Navy from far away places. The book, "The Story of Kingston" can be bought with Captain Hickey's autograph at either O'Reilly's or Winter's book store.

Recently I received a book covering the part played by local men and women in the Civil War, called "Banners and Bugles" compiled by Will Plank of Marlboro. It is illustrated by photographs taken of old pictures by John Warren. There are many names and items about local folks. One illustrated article is by Elizabeth Hendee Plank called "Help From the Home Front, Women Must Work as Well as Weep." She even includes an illustration of a "design for hand-knit mittens for soldiers" which she printed in newspapers showing separate thumb and trigger finger. During the Civil War, large amounts of clothing were collected at the Kingston Academy on Academy Green. So for every war, the women of the United States have done exactly this kind of work but the Civil War, was the saddest war, for brother fought brother, and state fought state, from 1861 to 1865.

Women canned and cooked and sent what they thought their men needed to live. In 1864, the Sanitary Commission sent letters to the principal relief societies and to newspapers, asking that dried fruits instead of jellies and jams in jars be sent to soldiers and hospitals. The following may be of interest to the readers as Mrs. Plank wrote: "There was a great and official demand for sauerkraut, as a preventive of scurvy, and directions were given for shipping the kegs and barrels." She also wrote: "Onions were thought to have a healthful effect upon soldiers, and a crippled Hurley lady who could not leave her own house organized enthusiastic Onion Clubs among school children. They planted onion gardens and grew, dried and shipped the onions."

No doubt many old timers remember being told these stories by their parents, and grandparents. Mrs. Plank also wrote: "The surgeons wanted currants dried or in juice, and currant wine, to prevent and cure dysentery. Blackberry wine was in demand and a great deal was made and sent for the same purpose." The county papers published recipes for blackberry jelly and use of other fruits grown around here. These recipes came from a volunteer national group like the Christian and Sanitary Commission.

It was also said some 25 baskets of blackberries were left at Merritt and Crosby's store in Kingston, and men, women and children stood in line in front of the store with pails and baskets to be filled with berries to take home and be worked. There were contests all over the county for school girls and boys to pick fruit with the slogan "Pick Berries for the Boys in Blue."

Two Many Contributors

NEW YORK (AP) — Two many people wanted to contribute to this summer's free Shakespeare Festival in Central Park.

As part of its fund-raising campaign, the festival repeated a 1962 invitation for public donations. In exchange, each contributor was assured of a seat at the performance of his choice. The response exceeded expectations, so founder-producer Joseph Papp sent money back to 1,300 people.

Papp explained that 12,000 others had already sent money, and that if the rolls were kept open enough seats wouldn't be available for people who line up at each performance for gratis tickets. The subscription total represents about one-quarter of the seats available during a play's run. The open-air theater has room for 2,300 spectators per performance.

Today's Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP)—Self-policing vs. government controls—an increasingly sore point in business-government relations—is brought sharply into focus today by an official study of what makes the stock market tick.

How the question is finally settled is of great importance to investors, large and small—and by implication to other parts of the business world fearful of increased or proposed government regulation.

Feel Best Equipped

Stock exchanges and other handlers of securities think — as do leaders in many other industries—that since they are closest to their problems they are best equipped to regulate themselves and stop or prevent malpractice that bilks the stock-buying public.

They point to recent tightening of their own rules and stepped-up vigilance.

A special panel study of security marketing practices for the Securities and Exchange Commission holds—as apparently do many government officials in other lines — that self-regulation is fine but that the SEC should be given more powers to see that the policing is done, and along lines held by the government to be best for the investing public.

The theme of the study seems to be that "no business is eager for regulation" and firm "government oversight" is needed to see that the policing is done properly.

Stock exchanges do considerable policing of their member brokerage houses and several times of late have cracked down on rule infractions.

Bid to Congress Later

The much larger over-the-counter market of stocks unlisted on any exchange is regulated by the National Association of Securities Dealers, set up by law to supervise activities of some 5,000 firms, involving 100,000 persons. SEC Chairman William L. Cary says his agency will discuss the issue of still stricter self-policing vs. more government controls with the stock exchanges and the over-the-counter leaders before asking Congress for any new powers—beyond those already sought and now currently before the House after passage by the Senate.

What Congress might do next year, if the issue is raised then, depends on many things—including the course of stock prices, any fresh scandals, the general trend of conservatism vs. liberalism.

Southern Demos Not So Sure Of JFK Since Rights Stand

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—"If we must disagree," said Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, as if cheering up a debating society with a fairy tale, "let's disagree without being disagreeable." This was his message Sunday to California Democrats already fussing among themselves a year before President Kennedy runs for re-election. Southern Democrats didn't get the message. Republicans won't, either.

The Southerners are so mad at Kennedy for his civil rights efforts that Mississippi gubernatorial candidates ran last week as anti-Kennedy men and Sunday Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia said: "I'm a Democrat but I have no intention of getting out and knocking myself out to support the Kennedy administration next year."

To Lead Filibuster

Russell not only has voted against the President on a good part of his domestic legislative proposals but will lead the expected Southern filibuster against Kennedy's civil rights bill.

Kennedy was caught in a political revolving door on this one. He had to be pushed into offering the bill—by direct action of Negroes North and South—and while it will cost him heavily among white Southerners it would have cost him among Northern Negroes if he hadn't.

But the Southerners will have trouble deciding which way to turn if New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the Republicans' 1964 choice to oppose Kennedy.

Republican Conflict

Rockefeller, whose state has a large Negro population, is plugging for civil rights legislation, too. He already is taking swipes at the one man who seems to have the edge on him at this moment, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Goldwater, who has made some strong statements on running the government without explaining all of them, retorted that he wasn't writing off anybody's vote and accused Rockefeller of encouraging political cannibalism.

He said Rockefeller was trying to get Republicans to eat Republicans and complained the governor was using the "guilt by association" technique in identifying him with the "radical right."

And at this very moment some of the Republican leaders in Congress have been cautious not only about the civil rights bill but about the limited nuclear test-ban treaty Kennedy recently got from Khrushchev.

Gives Warning

While they hemmed and hawed, a Negro leader—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—tried to build a fire under them with a little warning.

"I am inclined to agree that the Republicans want the Negro to be free, but free somewhere over yonder."

"If they are worrying about getting Negro support, instead of carrying on a negative campaign on the civil rights bill they should adopt a positive policy and out-Kennedy the Kennedys."

While white Southerners would be confused if they had to choose between Kennedy and Rockefeller

Northern Negroes will be confused if Kennedy should now go less than all-out for his civil rights bill and they have to choose in 1964 between him and a highly conservative Republican.

Yet, if Kennedy loses Southern white votes over civil rights, his nuclear test ban treaty will get him votes elsewhere, which is something the Republicans in Congress can hardly be unaware of in deciding how to vote on the treaty.

Things ought to be getting more disagreeable right along now.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The favorite indoor and poolside sport of this show business town now, as always in late summer, is predicting next season's hit television shows.

The community is full of self-proclaimed experts on the subject, and the most fascinating aspect of the game is that almost anybody can be right.

After two weeks of visiting television sets, talking with producers, directors, stars, executives and, of course, press agents, I have been assured that every new series encountered undoubtedly will be a hit.

For what preseason talk is worth, there's a lot about the incoming NBC Bill Dana comedy series. By coincidence it will occupy the Sunday night spot vacated by "Ensign O'Toole," which received the same kind of talk last year at this time but survived for only one season.

CBS' "My Favorite Martian" also is a Sunday evening entry and the subject for particularly enthusiastic predictions. This is unusual in that it will attempt to marry fantasy and satire in a comedy. It concerns the adventures of a visitor from another planet who arrives equipped with built-in antennae and assorted powers including ability to become invisible at will.

The theory is that the kiddies will enjoy the magic and the adults appreciate the satire and everybody will be happy.

ABC and many of the crystal-ball gazers are expecting interesting response to "Burke's Law," an action series done in a debonair and sophisticated manner. It stars a millionaire man-about-town who is also a police detective.

A number of shows have been beset by production troubles. ABC's "Travels of Jaimie McPheeters" lost its producer by death; CBS removed the producer and took most of the writers off "The Judy Garland Show" after five shows had been taped; NBC's "Richard Boone Show," an anthology series, has been set back by the illness of playwright Clifford Odets, story editor of the series.

DANCE TAKING PLACE IN SUBURBS

Q: The country club to which I belong is giving a buffet supper and dance next week. I have invited a girl I have been dating to go with me. She lives in the city and I live in the suburbs—a distance of about 45 miles. I would like to know if it is necessary for me to drive all the way into the city to pick her up the night of the dance, or would it be proper to have her come out on the train and meet her at the station?

A: Considering the distance involved, you may meet her at the station, but after the dance you must either drive her to the city yourself or arrange for friends to take her in their car, you cannot let her go home alone on the train late at night.

Bride's Mother Is Doctor
Q: My mother is a doctor; my father is not. I would like to know how my mother's name should appear on the invitations. Should it be Mrs. or Dr.?

A: If she is a practicing physician and known to everyone as Dr. Smith, then your father's and her name together must appear on the invitations as Mr. Henry and Dr. Mary Smith. If she has given up her practice or if she has always been known socially as Mrs. Henry Smith, then their names would appear as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Paying Her Taxi Fare
Q: When a gentleman sees a lady into a taxi, should he pay the driver or give her the money to pay him?

A: If he had invited her to go out with him and then for some unavoidable reason could not see her home, he asks the driver what the approximate fare will be and pays him in advance, including the tip. But if he is merely a fellow guest at a party and, happening to leave at the same time, calls a taxi for her, he does nothing about her fare.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Woodstock to Present Musical

"The Fantasticks," a charming musical by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, will open Tuesday, Aug. 13 and run through Sunday, Aug. 18 at the Woodstock Playhouse. New York's longest running musical, this moonlight-touched fantasy has scored huge successes in Europe, Australia, South America and the Near East.

Its story has innocence, and frothy lightness and its songs have jazz-rhythms and ballad lilt. It is pure entertainment, intended to be intoxicating and gay and not a bit thought-provoking. No wonder it's an international success. It started with a French plot, is told in an Italian style of clowning, and it is written by a couple of young fellows from Texas.

The plot is merely about a boy and girl in love, but it is the mockingly sophisticated style of telling their romantic story that has captivated audiences around the world. A ballad called "Try to Remember," one of the most popular song hits of "The Fantasticks," provides a haunting theme for the story.

Stephen Randall is directing the cast which includes Melissa Murphy and Erik Howell as the sweethearts and David Huddleston and Maurice Edwards as the fathers. The musical direction is by Sandy Campbell.

Thirteen String Players and Teachers Will Conduct Symposium at Tanglewood Aug. 18

The Berkshire Music Center, the summer center for the advanced study of music operated by the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Tanglewood (Lenox, Mass.), will sponsor a String Symposium on August 18 and 19. The Music Center has invited thirteen of the country's leading string players and teachers to participate in the two-day symposium. Richard Burgin, Head of the Berkshire Music Center's Department of Instrumental Music, and Joseph Silverstein, Concertmaster of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will meet with the visiting string players in three sessions during which two major topics will be considered.

The agenda for the Tanglewood symposium consists of: (1) problems in teaching basic techniques for string players including mechanical application, musical application, and physiological problems and their relationship to basic technique; (2) a curriculum for the applied and teaching music major including a consideration of essential subject matter, scheduling of curriculum, and correlating applied and teaching curricula. The three sessions of the String Symposium are open to the public and will be held in the Chamber Music Hall at Tanglewood at 7:30 p. m. on August 18 and 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. on August 19.

Each participant at the Symposium will deliver a paper covering his special interests and views on the agenda. At the final session of the Symposium, a panel discussion will summarize the views presented with the expectation that the two-day meeting will have important results for the string teachers at the elementary as well as the advanced level.

Those participating in the String Symposium at Tanglewood include in addition to Mr. Burgin and Mr. Silverstein, Max Aronoff, Director, The New School of Music, Philadelphia; Anshel Brusilow, Concertmaster—Philadelphia Orchestra; Stuart Canin, Conservatory of Music, Oberlin College; Rafael Druian, Concertmaster—Cleveland Symphony Orchestra; Broadus Earle, School of Music, Yale University; Josef Gingold, School of Music, University of Indiana; Sidney Harth, Dept. of Music, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh; Joseph Knitzer, Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester; Louis Krasner, Department of Music, University of Syracuse; Theo Salzman, Principal Cellist, Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra; Samuel Gardner, Violin Teacher, Paul Stassevich, Dept. of Music, De Paul University, Chicago; Henry Siegl, Concertmaster, Seattle Symphony Orchestra.

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Carmen headed for Manila today with winds up to 120 miles an hour.

The typhoon was plotted in mid-afternoon in the Pacific about 75 miles east of Samar Island, the Manila Weather Bureau said.

Polish City Wears New Face; Twist Is Popular Dance Trend

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Warsaw is like a frisky puppy on a long leash.

The city is young. Although there was a Warsaw when the ancient Romans came this way, the present city is almost entirely new, lovingly reconstructed on the twisted stacks of broken brick left by the war.

It is frisky. There is more hand-kissing than in a Viennese operetta, and plenty of painted toenails, hennaed hair, and Count Basie records on the radio.

And it is on a leash, a loose one, but one that Communist authorities yank from time to time to remind the puppy that there is still someone on the other end.

But despite the government's bureaucratic snarl of the system and an appalling rebuilding task, the Poles have put a city back together from the hideous wreckage. They are very proud of it.

Their proudest boast is that it is so much better as a place to live than Moscow, the capital of the Communist bloc.

"Moscow is Asia, Warsaw is Europe," the Poles say.

Warsaw does have a European flair for style and chic that is totally lacking in the Soviet Union.

There are adding machines in the offices instead of the wooden-bead abacus contraptions in the Soviet Union, typewriters instead of leaky fountain pens, and churches on almost every corner.

The women wear crisp print dresses in the summer, with bright ribbons in their tilted hair, and they swing their hips when they walk. None swings a pick along the streetcar tracks as women in Moscow do.

The people chatter and fling their hands as they walk down the street. They smile and help each other out almost every corner.

The people in Warsaw tell jokes, some about the Russians.

The very air seems clearer and cleaner. The lethargy that is built into the Communist system has not completely infected Warsaw as it has Moscow.

The Warsaw reconstruction is proof of that. The Germans set out to ruin the city in 1944. They blew apart almost every building in a city of a million people, ripped the electric cables out of the ground, even wrecked the sewers.

The Poles built their city back just the way it was, with a jagged skyline of gabled roofs and pastel plaster houses.

But the leash is still on.

The newspaper, the American Ladies Home Journal but few newspapers except censored ones, which are out of touch with reality.

A petty Communist official sits in every office, watching. From the squat, square concrete party headquarters comes a stream of directives on where to work, when to work, where to live.

Most Poles laugh at it.

Right now the Poles take out their resentment by painting blotches of abstract art and selling them on the street and by sitting around in night clubs listening to bands imitate old Tommy Dorsey records.

When the music is fast they all get up and do the twist. They even twist to tangos.

It looks silly, but it must feel good.

Girl Scout News Scout Campers Learn International Skills; Complete Canoe Trip

Girl Scouting firmly believes that face to face contacts between peoples from different countries can help to promote understanding and world peace. Birgitta Westergren, an exchange counselor from Sweden at Camp Wendy, the established camp of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, has promoted program to broaden the horizons of many Girl Scouts.

The entire camp participated in a game based on Nils Holgersson, a Swedish folk tale. Wide games provide an opportunity for campers to display their skills. In the tale of Nils Holgersson, the girls tied knots, identified birds and trees, learned a password in Swedish, displayed knowledge of trail signs and listed 15 ways to prevent litter.

After the entire camp completed the wide game the girls returned to their units to prepare and serve a Swedish progressive dinner or a "Svensu Meny."

Romany unit served the first course which was "Smorgas och Mjolk." This consisted of open faced sandwiches with balony and cheese. Greenwood unit followed with "Agghalvor Med Ravor" or hard boiled eggs with tuna fish. Tinkerbell, the youngest campers served milk to the entire camp and then the girls went to jungle for the main course which was "Kottbullar" or Swedish meatballs. The campers reported that they had made 760 Swedish meatballs and all had been consumed. The "piece de resistance" of this menu was the dessert which was served in Pioneer Unit. This consisted of pancakes stacked with jelly and covered with whipped cream and nuts, called Pannkaka. The entire menu was cooked in outdoor kitchens by girls and served by them.

The Camp Council which consists of girl representatives from each unit, planned the day's activities under the guidance of Miss Westergren. In order to continue the international friendship theme, the campers decided to ask the exchange counselors to conduct language classes for them. There are now daily German and Swedish classes at Camp Wendy and any camper may attend. Camp Wendy has Miss Westergren and Rosel Dresbach from Germany on the camp staff.

Five campers and their counselors returned to Camp Wendy Aug. 2 after spending six days on a Lake George Canoe Trip. The girls were, Marsha Bright, Saugerties; Lesley Coulton, New Paltz; Sue Davidson, New Paltz; Jane Quick, Port Jervis, and Sue Redfern, New Paltz. The leaders were, Mrs. James Troyn of Cornwall and Mrs. David Bright of Saugerties.

The girls had spent one week at Camp Wendy reviewing their skills and preparing their equipment. This week certainly was most profitable as the ranger at Lake George reported that Camp Wendy's group was the best equipped and most skilled group that he had seen the entire summer.

Much of the time on the trip was spent exploring Lake George and the islands. The girls paddled for approximately 42 miles and were able to test their skills under many different conditions.

Among the side trips, they visited Fort Ticonderoga as well as another camp and also met many campers and canoeers in the Lake George area.

The trip proved to be such an enjoyable experience that these girls expressed the hope that all Wendy campers are perfecting their skills so that they too will be able to go on a canoe trip another year.

Believe Train Robbers Are Still in Britain

LONDON (AP) — An informer's tip sent detectives combing London's sleazy East End today for five criminals reported missing from their homes since history's greatest train robbery.

No arrests were made, but Scotland Yard posted a watch at each of the five addresses.

About 15 masked men halted the Glasgow-London mail train Thursday and made off with bags of registered mail worth more than $7 million.

Most of the loot was old currency being returned to London for destruction.

Police were convinced that most of the gang must still be in Britain. The precision with which the gang worked aroused speculation that the master mind was a former military man.

Spurred by reward offers totaling 260,000 pounds ($720,000), hundreds of Britons called police stations, claiming to have information that might help the police.

The ill-fated train, on its 400-mile journey from Scotland, was halted by a false red stop light. The bandits uncoupled the locomotive and first two mail coaches, moved them down the line and rifled them.

Two of Kennedy's Major Proposals to Face Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of President Kennedy's major proposals face action this week on Capitol Hill. The House will vote on a $1.1-billion college construction bill, the Senate on a measure to create a National Service Corps.

The voting will come after the Senate opens hearings on the limited nuclear test ban treaty and the House starts writing a civil rights bill.

The busy week continues the accelerated pace set last week when the Senate passed a big military pay increase bill and two $5.5-billion appropriations bills and the House voted to triple federal support of vocational education.

Congressional leaders are trying to move as much legislation as possible before the civil rights bill hits the House floor and the Senate starts debate on the treaty.

An attempt will be made in the Senate to revive a Mexican farm labor bill defeated earlier by the House.

The college construction bill on which the House votes Tuesday is a major part of the administration's education program. It failed to win passage last year because of disagreements between the House and Senate over their separate versions, but is expected to face easier going this year.

A tougher road lies ahead for the administration's proposal to launch a National Service Corps patterned on the Peace Corps. There has been little Republican support for the idea, especially in the House.

This week is expected to see the final touches added to the administration's tax revision and reduction bill by the House Ways and Means Committee, which has spent almost the entire session on it.

China Fights

China this year. And those who think seriously of international affairs must be prepared for the waves of public reaction that the Chinese explosion will produce.

Why, then, did Khrushchev, in his confidential talk with Ambassador Harriman show "complete unconcern" with China's nuclear progress? It is hardly in the nature of the man—unless he has urgent and compelling reasons—to invite more criticism from the Reds by revealing to the Department of Defense military secrets about a Red nation with whom Russia is still allied through a mutual military assistance pact.

In the view of specialists on communism, Khrushchev needs badly the "historic" diversion of the test ban treaty while he mends his crumbling fences in the Red world.

He desperately wants to avoid what every statesman dreads—a two-front conflict with China and the West. He also hopes to gain other benefits at a summit meeting with President Kennedy, including expanded East-West trade that will serve as a tranquilizer for Russian restive satellites.

But the United States Senate cannot understate or ignore China in the debate on the ratification of the test ban agreement.

Five Are Injured As Car Hits Tree Near Bearsville

Five persons were injured at about 3:45 p. m. Saturday, when a 1958 car in which they were riding went out of control on Route 212 between Shady and Bearsville and crashed into a tree.

Deputy Sheriff Emil Kuhn (left) and Deputy Jack Seaholm (right) reported the car was owned by Robert Latimore, 21, Ashokan, (who was charged with owning a vehicle with unsafe tires), and operated at the time by Anthony Luigi Russo, 21, of 117 Tinker Street, Woodstock, charged with not having a motor vehicle under control. Both summonses are returnable Aug. 16 before Judge Rudolph Baumgarten, Woodstock.

Latimore suffered severe lacerations of the scalp. A passenger, Joan Raymond, 20, of 2 Neher Street, Woodstock, received bruises of both legs. Both were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors ambulance.

Others injured were listed at the sheriff's office as Russo, sprained right arm; Latimore, lacerations of the forehead and chin and bruises; and Miss Robinson in Miller, 13, of Dixon Street, Woodstock, who was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's ambulance. She received a possible concussion. Christine Anderson, 13, of Woodstock, suffered lacerations and multiple bruises.

Deputies reported the car was traveling north on Route 212 when the operator lost control. The car veered off the right side of the road, hit a mail box, continued 178 feet across the highway and rammed into a tree on the left side of Route 212. Deputies reported four tires on the car were in bald condition.

Young Boy Found Dead in Bathtub, Autopsy Ordered

An autopsy was ordered Sunday to determine the cause of death of 7-year-old Thomas Sullivan, who was discovered in about two feet of water in the bathtub at his parents home, 11 Morehouse Road, Town of Poughkeepsie.

Patrolman Carl Linch, who investigated with Det. Sgt. David Cundy, said it had not been determined whether the boy was a victim of accidental drowning or a seizure.

Linch said the boy's father, Lawrence, found him submerged in the water about 10:12 a. m. yesterday. Police were notified and the Arlington Fire Department ambulance in charge of Fireman Ralph Polhemus was dispatched to the Sullivan home.

A physician was called and a respirator was applied. The boy was taken to Vassar Hospital. He was pronounced dead at 11:05 a. m.

Retired Civil Servant Builds Inflation Hedge

Q "I am a retired Civil Service employee. Besides having $3,000 in savings, I could invest $4,000 to supplement my pension pay. How should I invest this money?" E.W.

A) It is a pleasure for me to try to assist you. In spite of much talk about the ease of government life, I am aware of the sacrifices which it frequently entails, and I am personally indebted to many of you for painstaking and unobtrusive help on a great many occasions.

I believe you should use your money to build a greater hedge against inflation than your pension will provide. I would accept moderate yield with strong appreciation potential, which could help to keep up the purchasing power of your capital in the event of any future inflationary trends.

I believe that Texaco, with a record of frequent dividend increases, is just such a stock. A similar situation is Long Island Lighting, also with an excellent record of rising dividends.

Q "I have a paper route and have saved money. With half of it, I purchased a small amount of International Tel. & Tel. Substituting on my route, my brother saved money and bought General Telephone. Looking ahead for our education in four to ten years, should we hold these stocks?" — R.W.

A) You certainly have developed a degree of thrift and common sense unusual in someone your age.

I believe that over the period you mention both International Telephone and General Telephone are going to work out well, and that the shares should be held.

A highway patrolman stopped a minister for speeding. The minister stated that he was in a hurry because he had so many things to attend to. After all, he said, I'm on this earth to do God's work. That's why I'm here, too, said the patrolman. In answer to the minister's puzzled expression, he continued: Remember that part of the Bible which says, 'Go into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in'?

Blame Arrest On Politics

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korean opposition leaders charged today that the arrest of former military Premier Song Yo-chang, an outspoken critic of strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park, was politically inspired.

Political tensions rose in the capital after retired Lt. Gen. Song's seizure Sunday, three days after he published a letter calling on Park to give up plans to run for president in the October election.

Part of Virginia

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky was chartered as a county of Virginia in 1776, when the American Revolution began.

The military junta charged Song with responsibility for the killing of students and citizens during the uprising against President Syngman Rhee's regime in April 1960. Authorities also revived an old charge accusing him of ordering the execution without trial of an army colonel during the Korean war.

Another former premier, Huh Chung, a leader of civilian opposition to Park's regime, said Song's arrest "so close to the election makes me wonder if the government has a hidden motive."

Huh also criticized U.S. policy toward Park and called on the United States to reaffirm "its traditional principle" that military men should stay out of politics.

Demonstration Staged At Hotel Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A clapping, singing group of about 70 Negroes and whites sat on the floor of the city's leading hotel for about two hours Sunday night to call attention to their charge that the hotel discriminates against Negroes in hiring employees. The group included men, women and small children. Police were on duty both inside and outside the Hotel Syracuse, but there were no disorders and no arrests. The police did not interfere with the demonstration, sponsored by the Congress on Racial Equality.

The hotel management has said it is cutting back employment rather than hiring, because of business conditions, but has told CORE that, when it does hire new employees, it will not consider race, creed, color or national origin. CORE members began picketing outside the hotel last Wednesday.

Gleason. It consisted of a small mushroom omelet.

Grimacing, he ladened it liberally with ketchup, salt and pepper. Then he consumed the lunch, which in other times would have been to him little more than an hors d'oeuvre.

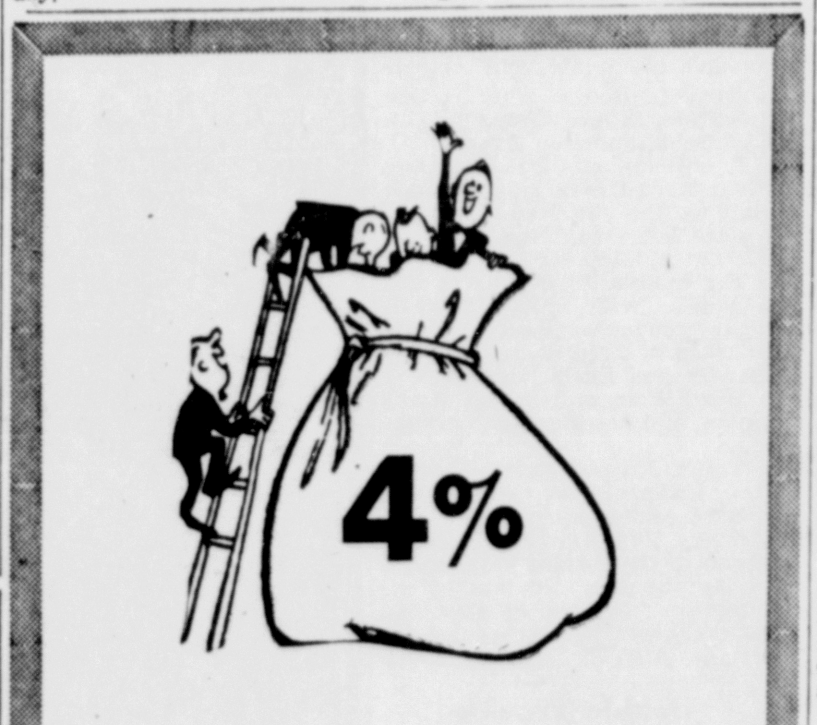

Obviously the Great One—so reads the billing on his dressing room and go-cart—is in training. Now working his way through a strenuous movie, "Soldier in the Rain," he will finish in time to hustle back to New York to begin what he says will be his last fall season in television.

"I'm down to 225 pounds, which is pretty good for me," said the ponderous comic. "Of course, I've been as low as 185, but that's too thin. I get along fine at 225."

Indeed he does. He is, in fact, a one-man industry, extending as successfully as any star into almost every phase of show business.

His triumphs in television, films and on the stage are well-known. Less publicized has been his success in mood-music albums. "When I go back to New York, I'll be doing my 27th album," he said. "I've sold more background music than anyone in the business."

How did he get into it? "I was seeing a movie with Clark Gable once," Gleason related. "He was doing a love scene, and I noticed how the scene improved when the music came on. I figured if music could help Gable make love, imagine what it could do for some poor sucker in Brooklyn who was trying to romance a broad."

School Calls Off Referendum

CROWN POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The Crown Point Central School Board has decided to call off a referendum it had scheduled to allow voters to decide whether a supervising principal should be fired or the board should resign.

James Whitty, the board president, said the dispute between the board and the principal, Fred D. Walsh, would be placed before State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.

Whitty said the board's intention was that Walsh "get a fair trial."

The decision came at a meeting Saturday night at which 80 persons attended. Most of the spectators apparently supported Walsh and interrupted the proceedings occasionally.

The board session lasted only about 10 minutes. Four members voted to cancel plans for the referendum, which had been scheduled for Monday. The fifth abstained from voting.

The board has charged Walsh with insubordination, inefficiency, incompetence and neglect of duty. Walsh has denied all the charges.

S and E, Kingston Merchants Capture Playoff Wins

Clubs to Meet Tonight for Championship

S and E Farms, the regular season champions, moved to the finals of the City Baseball league playoffs with a 9-7 triumph over the Eagles Sunday at Dietz Stadium.

In the other contest, Kingston Merchants overpowered the Port Ewen Merchants, 9-4.

The stage is set for tonight's championship game, slated at 8 o'clock. A consolation tilt will be held at 6 p. m.

Bob Beadle started for the regular season champs but he fell behind, 4-0, in the early stages. Paul Giannuzzi, who relieved in the third frame, hurled the rest of the game to pick up the victory. Aside from the seventh, when he was touched for three runs, Giannuzzi was in command.

The S and E Nine peaked away at loser Bill Costello. The winners tallied five times in the third, once in the fourth and three times in the fifth.

John Burris was the leading hitter, clouting a double and triple. Costello doubled and singled. Gene Spada and Giannuzzi had two hits each for the winners and Charles Manfro stroked a double.

Paul Gardner decided Wayne Johnson in the Kingston-Port Ewen contest. Johnson slammed a homer to aid his cause. Catcher Dick Bartsch and Zip Secreto had triples.

The winners wrapped up the decision with a four run surge in

City Softball Playoffs Set To Start Tonight

Subway Grill, winner of 17 of 18 regular season games, will attempt to add the playoff championship of the City Softball league to its regular title when it hosts third place Triangle Inn tonight, 6:15 p. m., at Block Park.

In another semi-final tilt, second place Yallum's Kings will oppose fourth place Hilltop Rest at the Upper Hasbrouck Park diamond.

Teams will change fields for the second game on Wednesday. If a third game is necessary, it will be held next Monday.

Winner of the best-of-three semi-final playoff, will meet in another best-of-three series for the championship.

Bob Lasher is slated to toss for Subway against Jerry Green of Triangle. Green holds the only decision over the regular season titleholders this season.

Yallum's will probably send W. C. Lindsay to the hill to oppose the troublesome Hilltop.

The sixth, Lynn Johnson had a double and single and Len Whitte rapped two singles for the Kingston side.

Gardiner Golfer Bags Hole-in-1

Jim Moran of Gardiner aced the par-three, 115-yard hole at the Lake Mohonk golf course.

Playing in a threesome with Andy Harcher and Al Thoben, Moran planted a 7-iron shot to the blind pin. Thinking that Moran's teeshot had overshot the green, the trio searched the area until somebody suggested it might be a good idea to look in the cup. The ball was there, alright.

Dave Bonner Captures Singles Title in Valley Net Tourney

Beats Art Jones In Straight Sets At College Courts

It took Dave Bonner almost two sets to get his game up to par Sunday at New Paltz State Teachers College. However, once he found the groove, the University of Florida net star, who comes from Poughkeepsie, polished off Art Jones, 9-7, 9-7, 6-0, to capture the singles title in the Hudson Valley Tennis tournament.

Jones, another Poughkeepsie resident and more than twice the age of Bonner, gave the blonde haired youngster a good run for his money.

The first set took an hour and ten minutes and Bonner trailed all the way until he moved ahead in the 15th game. Jones was placing his shots well and was forcing his younger competitor to earn every point he picked up.

Jones also moved to an early advantage in the second set, winning the first three games handily. However, Dave righted himself after suffering a collision when he ran into a judge's chair and then started to force Jones into many easy errors.

Always a crowd pleaser, Bonner delighted the more than 350 in attendance with a combination of good serves and some nifty power tennis. He came from behind to win the second set and you could sense that the bid by Jones was all but finished at the end of the set.

The champion won six straight games in the final set and needed only 12 minutes to clinch the championship. He played superb tennis, hitting the corners well and returning everything Jones was able to send over the net.

Eleven Miscues Help Nutmegers To Fifth Victory

The confrontation of the "old" and "new" Braves was a distressing experience for Kingston's entry in the Mid-Atlantic League Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

The league Meriden, Conn. squad, composed largely of former Kingston Braves players, trounced the locals, 15-5, for their fifth straight league victory.

Manager John Pullie's Nutmegers collected 12 hits and were comforted by 11 Kingston errors and four bases on balls. By the end of the fourth inning, the invaders had built up a 10-1 lead and everything after that was purely anti-climatic, including Meriden's five runs in the last two turns at bat.

The Meriden club picked up 10 runs, certainly not all earned, off starter Paul Gardner, who was relieved during a six-run rally in the fourth. Craig Smith, the well known bowler, came on to furnish the only ray of light for the locals. He limited the visitors to two hits in 5 2/3 innings and it is academic that not all the tallies were earned. The setback left the Kingstonians with a 2 and 6 record in the two-state league.

Marek Slugs Homer
Dave Musco, a stalwart Kingston performer in the NY-NJ league era, slugged three singles in the leadoff spot for Meriden.

First baseman Wally Marek slugged a home run. Ed McHugh, Ken Cullum and Don Liptak had two singles each.

Paul Natale led the Braves with a double and single and Chick Boice and Richie Broberg picked up a couple singles each. Three pitchers checked the locals on 10 hits — Paul Zarembo, Cliff Spencer and Jim Fahy, with the latter getting credit for the victory.

Randall Defeats Bates in Stamford Finals, 3 and 2

Wiltwyck Star Tops Defending Champ to Win

Leon Randall of Wiltwyck Country Club defeated defending champion, Ricky Bates, 3 and 2, in the finals of the Stamford Country Club Invitational Sunday to add another entry to his bulging trophy case. And the Stamford Invitational has always been regarded as one of the top amateur golf prizes in the area.

Disturbed by only bad hole, the Blond Bomber vanquished a rugged competitor who had whipped three of Randall's teammates en route to the finals—Ronnie Marks, Harvey Bostic and Harold Van Aken. A 128-player field competed.

Randall gained the finals by ousting Bob Pedone of Edison; Jim Kyser, former Florida State Amateur champion, 4 and 3, and Ed Hawks of Antlers, 5 and 4.

One Up at Turn
One up at the turn, Randall went 2 up with a par 4 on the 10th. They halved the 11th and 12th. A birdie-2 on the short par-three put Randall three up. Following a halved 14th hole, Randall put Bates at dormie-3 with another birdie on the par-5 fifteenth.

Both players had a shot at birdie on the 16th hole. Bates was away and when he missed his try conceded the match to Randall. A Randall birdie on the 8th hole put him 2 up but on the ninth the local ace slammed his second shot out of bounds to lose the hole.

There were two other prize winners among Wiltwyck's nine-man entry. Ed Strohsahl carded a neat 77 to win the Beaten Eight of the fourth flight and Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr. was runnerup in the Beaten Eight of the third flight.

The Staten Island little leaguers captured the state crown here Saturday by defeating Rockville Centre, 2-0, on a one-hitter by Dick Hickman.

John Shelley gave up only four hits for the losers, but two of them were homers by Mid-Island's Pete Wyso and Billy Ebner.

In a consolation game, Scotia beat Geneva, 8-7.

The regional winner will go to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 20-24.

Sport Club Loses, 6-2 To N.Y.C.

A high powered New York Sport Club racked up four second half goals to defeat Kingston Sport Club, 6 to 2, Sunday at Oehler's Mountain Lodge field.

The Sport Club furnished formidable opposition to tie the Class A visitors, 2-2, in the first half but the metropolitan stars slugged through local defense weaknesses for four goals in the second half.

Eugene Ventriglia scored for Kingston at the 20-minute mark and veteran Reiner Schwebel bagged the equalizer at the 32-minute mark of the first half. Thereafter it was all New York.

Prepping for its big International Game on Labor Day, the Sport Club hosts the strong Holland Sport Club, champions of the Eastern District Soccer League of New York City, next Sunday at 4 p. m. A preliminary game is scheduled at 2 p. m.

Kennedys Are Cheered by Their Two Children

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—The President's son, John F. Kennedy Jr., watched photographers' flashing lights as he visited his mother's hospital suite Sunday night.

Looking out of their car with an air of one who had made a great discovery, the 24-year-old youngster declared: "I betcha they're taking our picture."

President Kennedy, like everyone else who heard it, burst into laughter.

Hand-in-hand, the President had taken his two youngsters, John and Caroline, 3½, on separate visits Sunday to their mother.

Caroline, with a bouquet of garden flowers she picked herself and little John asking "Where's mommy?" all the way to her room, saw their mother for the first time since she was taken to the hospital Wednesday for the premature birth of a third child, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy. The infant lived less than two days.

The First Lady, 34, is reported continuing to make a splendid recovery. She got out of bed for the first time Sunday, took a walk in her suite and began to eat solid food, including hamburger.

The youngsters, aside from the reunion, were treated to a helicopter ride from their Squas Island summer home near Hyannis Port, Mass., to this air base, a 22-mile flight.

Kennedy started his children's airlift after attending Mass at St. Francis Xavier Church in Hyannis Port.

The pastor, Msgr. Leonard J. Daley, extended his sympathy and that of his congregation.

"In our sorrow for them, we know one consolation is that they have given back to God, their Maker, a saint in heaven, praying for them in these troublesome times."

Kennedy planned to take off from Otis Air Force Base in mid-afternoon for his return to Washington.

The President's tragic five-day visit to Massachusetts began Wednesday morning when Mrs. Kennedy was taken to the hospital.

The baby, a 4 pound, 10½-ounce boy, had trouble with his breathing from the beginning. A specialist was called from the Boston Children's Medical Center and the baby was taken to the Boston center a few hours after birth.

The baby died after only 39 hours and 12 minutes of life. The simple funeral services were held in Boston Saturday.

In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MOSCOW (AP)—Finnish Communist leader, Hertti Kuisinen, accused the Communist Chinese today of trying to instigate a war with the United States which Red China is too weak to fight itself.

Miss Kuisinen was writing in Pravda, the newspaper of the Soviet Communist party.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting Jr. presented President Ngo Dinh Diem's government with a check for $50,000 Sunday as the U.S. contribution to nuclear research in South Viet Nam.

The money will finance a nuclear reactor operating in the city of Dalat. It produces radioactive isotopes for research and medicine.

LONDON (AP)—Julie Gulliver says she is going to have a baby by the late Dr. Stephen Ward, the weekly newspaper The People reports.

The copyrighted article in the Sunday newspaper said the singer, 22, met Ward, 50, a central figure in the Profumo sex and security scandal, four months before he died from an overdose of sleeping pills he took as a jury was about to convict him of living off the earnings of prostitutes.

OTTAWA (AP)—The Bank of Canada has raised its lending rate to 4 per cent, effective immediately. The rate had been 3½ per cent since May 6.

TOKYO (AP)—Red China, seeking to capitalize on racial strife in the United States, is stepping up its campaign in support of "our American Negro brothers."

The official Peking People's Daily announced that "a tremendous meeting" was being held in the Chinese capital today to express Red China's "profound sympathy" for Negroes in the United States.

BONN, Germany (AP)—France has complained that it should have been informed about negotiations leading up to the U.S.-West German agreement on joint development of a new tank, government officials said today.

The complaint was made recently to the West German ambassador in Paris.

Under their new treaty of cooperation, France and West Germany are committed to consult one another on military matters. This was not done in the case of the tank agreement, reached during U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's visit to Bonn early this month.

Commissioner Paul H. Hoch announced the appointments of Charles Sheldon of White Plains and Alan W. Pike of Smithtown. Hoch said three more representatives would be named to serve on a two-year project to work out methods of implementing the state's mental health program. The project is financed by a $280,700 grant from the U.S. Public Health Service.

Sheldon will serve the Hudson and Catskill regions and Pike will handle the Long Island and Binghamton areas, Hoch said.
